Back Packs!

I have a real "God is good!" story. When unpacking the backpacks last week, we wondered what we would do with the one that had wheels. No one in the school uses them. We put it in our nurse office store room with the others and just forgot about it.

Until today. One of our students has a degenerative disease and has outlived her projected lifetime. Now that she is older, she is required to carry a ton of books and notebooks around all day. Really heavy! It's no wonder so many students break their straps or split the seams. Today her one-on-one aide complained to us about the weight of her student's backpack. I asked the student, "Do you want a backpack with wheels?" Her face lit up and she replied, "Sure!" So I retrieved the backpack and we repacked all of her stuff. She very happily rolled it out of the office and went on her way with a big grin on her face!

God knew we needed that rolling backpack, even when we didn't. You all are sooooo special to us at Cheyenne and we appreciate you! Bunches! Please let whoever purchased that backpack that they were listening to that "still small Voice" and how much it is appreciated!

Fr. Peter's Letter to Parish

Presiding Bishop-Elect Calls Us to be part of the Jesus Movement

It is always big news when our Church elects a new Presiding Bishop, and the question always arises about what kind of leader he or she will be, and what changes might come about in the Church at large under that new leadership. This month I have chosen to share our Bishop Kirk Smith's reflections about the election of a new Presiding Bishop with you, as a barometer of good things to come as the Church moves forward in the years ahead. I highly commend to you the online video to which Bishop Smith refers in his article for more insight into the passion of our Presiding Bishop-Elect for spreading the Good News of Jesus Christ in our broken world. Here is Bishop Smith's article in its entirety:

The Episcopal Revival

By The Rt. Rev. Kirk S. Smith, Bishop of Arizona

The scene was the Cathedral Church of St. Mark in Salt Lake City. Sequestered inside were more than 150 bishops from around world. Our job was to pick the 27th Presiding Bishop of The Episcopal Church. We sang hymns, prayed, and then were given yellow paper ballots with the names of four candidates. We cast our ballots, and then wandered around the church for about 20 minutes while they were counted. The current Presiding Bishop, Katharine Jefferts Schori, called us quickly back to order and, breathlessly, we took our places. She announced, "Here are the results of the first ballot: We have an election -- Bishop Michael B. Curry of North Carolina!" There was much cheering and clapping, and not a few tears were shed, as we sang together the great spiritual hymn, "Lift Every Voice and Sing." This was the first time that a new Presiding Bishop had been elected on the first ballot, but more importantly, Bishop Curry was the first African-American to be elected to this position. In honor of that fact, the Presiding Bishop asked the bishops of African descent to be the first to sign the necessary consent forms.

It had not taken much to convince me to cast my ballot for Bishop Curry. I had known him since we were classmates at Yale Divinity School, and like much of the church, I had already heard him preach. He is widely acknowledged to be the best preacher in the church, noted for his fiery oratory and physical presence (the rumor is that he has actually broken a number of pulpits in the churches in his diocese!). What most don't know about him is that has also been a very good bishop, assembling a great team, setting a clear vision, and contributing to sizable diocesan growth in North Carolina, and he has done it all with a warm, pastoral presence and great sense of humor.

There is a lot of speculation about what difference his leadership will make in the church when he actually takes over on November 1. I think you can get the best preview of his leadership style by watching the video below of the first sermon he gave to General Convention after his election. You might want to skip through the first few minutes of the obligatory thanks and acknowledgements to where he really starts preaching, because wow can this man preach! But his sermon is more than just brilliant oratory, for in it he is calling us to be "part of the Jesus movement." There is one word that he wants everyone to remember from the Great Commission, and that is "Go," "Go ye, therefore, into the world!"

Fr. Peter's Letter to Parish continued

I don't think that it would be overstating it too much to say that under his leadership, The Episcopal Church is about to undergo a revival. There is going to be a new emphasis on following Jesus, making disciples, reaching out to our communities, and of being (in the words of another bishop) "unabashedly Episcopalian."

I see this spirit reflected not just in Bishop Curry's leadership, but also in some of the legislation that was passed at General Convention that had to do with Evangelism. The agenda of the Episcopal Resurrection group (of which some Arizonans played a part), was nearly all enacted. On the top of the list of their accomplishments was the appropriation of six million dollars for evangelism and church planning, an amount unprecedented in the history of the Episcopal Church. There definitely is a new energy, a new vision, and a new seriousness about moving beyond past divisive issues and uniting with others in the Jesus movement.

See for yourself. Take a look at this video and see if you don't believe that a new day has come for our church.

Thanks to Bishop Smith for his insightful article about our Presiding Bishop-Elect!

Obispo Presidente-Electo nos llama a ser parte del Movimiento de JESÚS

Siempre es una gran noticia cuando nuestra Iglesia elige a un nuevo Obispo Presidente, y la pregunta siempre surge sobre qué tipo de líder él o ella será, y qué cambios podrían ocurrir en la Iglesia en general bajo ese nuevo liderazgo. Este mes he decidido compartir reflexiones de nuestro Obispo Kirk Smith acerca de la elección de un nuevo Obispo Presidente con ustedes, como un barómetro de las cosas buenas que surgen mientras la Iglesia se mueve hacia adelante en los próximos años. Yo recomiendo que vean el video en línea a cual el Obispo Smith se refiere en su artículo para una idea más amplia de la pasión de nuestro Obispo Presidente Electo para esparrcir las Buenas Nuevas de Jesucristo en nuestro mundo quebrantado. Aquí está el artículo de El Obispo Smith en su totalidad:

El Renacimiento Episcopal

Por El. Recto Reverendo Kirk S. Smith, Obispo de Arizona

La escena era la Iglesia Catedral de San Marcos, en Salt Lake City. Secuestrado en el interior eran más de 150 obispos de todo el mundo. Nuestro trabajo consistía en escoger el 27º Obispo Presidente de la Iglesia Episcopal. Cantamos himnos, oramos y luego nos dieron boletas de papel amarillo con los nombres de los cuatro candidatos.

Sometimos nuestros votos y, entonces, caminábamos alrededor de la iglesia durante unos 20 minutos mientras que se contaron. La actual Obispa Presidenta, Katharine Jefferts, nos llamó rápidamente de nuevo a la orden y, sin aliento, tomamos nuestros lugares. Ella anunció: "Aquí están los resultados de la primera balota: Tenemos una elección - El Obispo Michael B. Curry de Carolina del Norte!" Hubo muchos vítores y aplausos, y se derramaron algunas lágrimas, mientras cantábamos juntos el gran himno espiritual, "Lift Every Voice and Sing" ("Alaben Cada Voz y Canten").

Esta fue la primera vez que un nuevo Obispo Presidente había sido elegido en la primera votación, pero lo más importante, el Obispo Curry fue el primer afroamericano en ser elegido a esta posición. En honor a este hecho, la Obispa Presidenta pidió a los obispos de ascendencia africana para ser los primeros en firmar los formularios de consentimiento necesarios.

Era fácil convencerme de echar mi voto para El Obispo Curry. Yo lo había conocido desde que éramos compañeros de clase del Seminario en Yale Divinity School, y al igual que gran parte de la iglesia, yo ya lo había oído predicar. Es ampliamente reconocido como el mejor predicador en la iglesia, con su oratoria de fuego y su presencia física (el rumor es que en realidad ¡ha roto varios púlpitos de las iglesias de su diócesis!). Lo que la mayoría no sabe de él es que también ha sido un buen obispo, ensamblando un gran equipo, estableciendo una visión clara, y contribuyendo al crecimiento de la diócesis de tamaño considerable en Carolina del Norte, y él lo ha hecho todo con una presencia cálida, pastoral y su gran sentido de humor.

Hay un montón de especulaciones acerca de qué diferencia su liderazgo hará en la iglesia cuando en realidad se hace cargo el 1 de noviembre. Creo que se puede obtener una mejor vista previa de su estilo de liderazgo al ver el video del primer sermón que dio a la Convención General después de su elección. Es posible que usted desee saltar a través de los primeros minutos de las gracias obligatorias y reconocimientos a donde realmente comienza la predicación, porque:

“Wow” ¡éste hombre puede predicar! Pero su sermón es más que brillante oratoria, porque en ella se nos llama a ser “parte del Movimiento de Jesús.” Hay una palabra de la Gran Comisión que él quiere que todos recordamos, y esa es “Id”; “¡Id, pues, al mundo!”

No creo que sería exagerar demasiado decir que bajo su liderazgo, la Iglesia Episcopal está a punto de experimentar un avivamiento. Habrá un nuevo énfasis en el seguimiento de Jesús, haciendo discípulos, alcanzando más allá a nuestras comunidades, y de ser (en palabras de otro obispo) “descaradamente episcopales.”

Veo que este espíritu queda reflejado no sólo en el liderazgo del El Obispo Curry, pero también en parte de la legislación que fue aprobada en la Convención General que tuviera que ver con el evangelismo. La agenda del grupo Resurrección Episcopal (de la cual algunos de Arizona jugaron una parte), fue casi toda promulgada. En la parte superior de la lista de sus logros fue la apropiación de unos seis millones de dólares para el evangelismo y la planificación de la iglesia, una cantidad sin precedentes en la historia de la Iglesia Episcopal. Definitivamente es una nueva energía, una nueva visión y una nueva seriedad que va más allá de cuestiones divisivas del pasado, y para unirnos con otros en el Movimiento de Jesús. Vea por sí mismo. Eche un vistazo a este video para ver si usted no cree que un nuevo día ha llegado para nuestra iglesia.

A few Words from our Senior Warden

Unas palabras de nuestro Guardián Mayor

Thirty summers ago Camp 60's More or Less got started. This was my first time. Several of us from St. Christopher's went.

Though I've never heard of a craft called Flower Pounding, I tried it along with a few others. We returned with something suitable for framing.

Around fifty-five people attended; some under 60 and many well beyond; some were newcomers and others veterans.

Everyone I met had some pretty incredible stories to share. Then there was Talent Night when we performed as the Sun City Boomwhackers. And through it all was the thread of history as we learned more about when, where and how our current religious traditions originated and evolved.

We have more in common with Judaism and Islam than may be apparent.

For a final note, several of us stood still on Friday morning after breakfast watching two young deer cross one of the camp roads.

These are a few highlights, but you may want to see for yourself next year.

In His Love,

Beth

Hace treinta veranos que empezó el Campamento de los 60 años más o menos. Acabo de asistir por primera vez con algunas personas de San Cristóbal.

Sin saber lo que era asistimos a la actividad de "Golpear las flores" con el resultado de tener algo para decorar una pared. Había unas cincuenta y cinco personas de varias edades; unas participaron en otros años y otras asistieron por primera vez. Cada persona tenía sus propios cuentos increíbles.

Para la Noche de Diversiones nos convertimos en las "Boomwhackers de Sun City". También aprendimos cada día sobre la historia de las tradiciones religiosas. Compartimos mucho con los judíos e islamitas.

Por último vimos dos ciervos cruzando una pista del campamento el viernes por la mañana justo antes de salir. A ver lo que pueda hacer si vaya el próximo verano.

En el amor del Señor,
Beth

BARGAINS GALORE:

The past month has been very busy and we are most appreciative of all those who have helped us during this time. Our success is directly related to the “team” consisting of workers, donators and customers. During the summer months we expect many people to be out of town, on vacation or trying to cope with the heat as best as they can. Our schedule reflects many adjustments to cover areas of responsibility with that in mind.

While trying to offer as much merchandise as possible we are also trying to diligently maintain a semblance of neatness and order. That can be very challenging when space is so limited. As of today, we have priced all the merchandise we have received and will start to plan for a major change over to Fall/Winter in October.

We have a new storage room!! We are indebted to Al Franco and Bill Masters. Those guys almost melted out on the patio building the new structure. Thank you so much!!

We always welcome more parishioners to join in the fun and laughter we offer working in various areas within Bargains Galore. We can accommodate all sorts of skills...stacking, pricing, displaying, organizing bags, straightening shelves of merchandise, etc. Please accept this invitation to be a part of our ministry! Call Bonnie Franco at 623 566 7973 for hours and more information.

LANDSCAPE MINISTRY

Our plants are showing the stress of the heat but look as though they will make it through our Summer.

Eva Quiles arranged for our four large palms to be trimmed. Al Franco trimmed the white oleanders this past week, and Jacinto will be following up with the evergreens soon. The weeds are minimal currently but require frequent checking to maintain that status.

Our landscaping funds have stretched quite far but we are now down to a very low ($100) level. Please keep this ministry in mind whenever you can help sustain our efforts. Thank you for trusting Eva and I with this ministry.

MEN'S BIBLE WORKBENCH

Yep! We're still around, and will be through the rest of this year. We're having a great time hashing over the ministries of Christ and His disciples.....like, what are we doing to help encourage others to want serve Jesus? Not much, I reckon, but then what is there to do that hasn't already been done? A great question, isn't it. Come and work at the workbench with us. With your help, we just might find several things that have not been done, or done well at all. Then we can really go to work.

Meeting each Tuesday at 10:30 to noon in the Parish Hall.

St. Christopher's Children's Ministry

It's hard to believe that we've finished EVEREST VBS already. A Good time was had by all while learning about God's Higher Power. We had several different "mountain science experiences like making snow, playing with non-melting ice cubes, and dry ice bubbles. We made Everest out of salt dough, threw "snowballs" through hoops, went rock climbing, raised $300.00 for the earthquake victims in Nepal, learned new songs and dances, enjoyed a yummy ice cream social....plus so many more wonderful experiences!

The climbers and sherpas want to thank the whole St. Christopher's family for all their support and bearing the heat in Hart Hall for 5 long weeks. God bless you all because we couldn't have VBS without YOU!!

Sunday, September 13th at 10:30 will be the first Sunday for Growing Our Faith (Sunday School). Registration forms have been sent out, but if you didn't receive one, please see Fr. Peter or Ms. Barbara. It would be wonderful to have all the new faces we had in VBS show up for Sunday School.

JUNIOR WARDEN: Al Franco

- A new monitoring system is being installed which will offer reliable security monitoring at a cost saving. We expect this process to be completed in the near future.
- A new toilet was installed in the Chapel, which will be more reliable for routine use than the old unit has been.
- We are proud to announce we have solved the initial problem of keeping both Hart Hall and Middleton Hall both cool at the same time. Port Miler, owner of Miler Plumbing & Mechanical, (480 593 5060) has obtained a new A/C (at distributor's cost to us) and installed it for us free of labor charges. He also included a new thermostat for the Chapel and installed it free as well! Please offer prayers of thanksgiving for this generous man while remembering to consider his services for your personal needs. He is an exceptional guy!!
- Please remember to turn off all lights not being used and check to be sure all doors are locked when you leave.

The BOOKSHELF

Theme table for September is Classics. Take a look, you may find a book you read a long time ago or one that you intended to read.

Summer is a good time to stretch your mind. Also in September –jigsaw puzzle sale, buy one-get one free. The jigsaw puzzle table is full and that's another good thing to fill the hours on hot summer days The August theme table was –Art & Crafts. Most of our Art books sold so I hope we get more.

The best August event was the birth of the new air conditioner. What a difference! Many thanks to Al and the crew for this. Big thanks to Ron for his help on those steamy Saturdays.

So many of our friends from the community have been very generous in donating books. They have become like old friends. We had very large donations of Westerns but they are all gone now. More of these are needed. New also is an entire shelf of Cook Books. Even people who do not cook like to look at cookbooks. A few are dedicated to recipes that only need 4 ingredients.

We have overflow in many areas, so look in the closet. The door is open, so just put the light on and check it out. Don't forget to put the light out when you are done.

We have a lot of empty spaces on our paperback tables so please check your shelves and bring in any that you are not going to reread. Magazine table is loaded with all types. They are free so take some and bring some.

As always, Barbara keeps your fiction books in alphabetical order and the non fiction are sorted by subject so it is easy to find what you need. We still need any books, DVD movies, etc. that you no longer use. If you see many books by an author unfamiliar to you, perhaps that is a sign that this is a very readable writer and you might want to make his/her acquaintance.

Just put the money in the Book Banks and it goes into the general fund. We have also noted that the monthly Men's Club sack lunches ministry is underfunded so we are dedicating part of the bookstore income here.

Women's Bible Study

How did it feel to walk the dusty roads of the Holy Land with the incarnate Son of God? What was He like to know personally? What would an onlooker have felt when He: broke up a funeral by raising the dead, or taught on a Galilean hillside as multitudes listened, or confronted the conniving religious leaders of His day, or walked on the waves and rebuked the storm, or traveled the streets of Jerusalem or tread obediently to the place of the skull? Come to Bible Study and we'll explore these unknowns together.

Women's Bible Study will start on Thursday September 10th at 9:30 AM in Hart Hall. Our study this session is "Jesus the One and Only". It's an 11 week set of lesson's and all women are welcome.

Registration is underway. You can purchase your workbook at Life Way Christian Bookstore on the corner of 75th Avenue and Bell Road.

Prayer Shawl Ministry

We had a meeting on Wednesday July 15th with 8 ladies in attendance. We took a count on what we needed and made suggestions as to what colors of yarn to purchase.

Our next Prayer Shawl meeting will be September 16th at 10:00 AM in Middleton Hall. If you don't knit or crochet and would like to learn, we have teachers available at every meeting.

Next Meeting: Saturday
September 12, 8:00am
Breakfast and Prayer and
Sandwich making at 9:00am.

Thank you all for the support with this on going project. All the help and donations are greatly appreciated.

JOE BROWN, ORGAN/CHOIR MASTER

September has finally arrived and it's time. Time for the choir to begin another year of praise and worship in song. First choir rehearsal is Wednesday, September 9th. Rehearsal is normally at 6:30pm, but we'll begin with a potluck at 5:00pm. Spouses of choir members are invited and we'll have some activities for them while we're rehearsing for our first service for the new term; the following Sunday the 13th. I am particularly looking forward to singing the appointed psalms, with the help of the choir as well as the obvious other benefits.

We've completed some upgrades to the organ. We have added some amplifiers that boost the power such that I don't have to push the volume (expression) pedals all the way forward in order to get average volume. There are 4 groupings of the speakers; one in each corner at the front of the church and one at each corner at the back of the church. We've restructured the system so that the sound is equally distributed amongst those 4 systems. As a result I don't have to play as loud to compensate for the sound to be able to be heard on the back row !

We have a "sound module" that slides out from the front side of the organ. The sound module has 128 non-organ sounds that can be assigned to any of the 4 keyboards. For example, at Christmas we can play renaissance music such as "What Child is This" using a breathy flute on one keyboard and a harpsichord on another. At Easter, we can use the brass and horn ensembles to make it sound like we hired a brass quintet to play the triumphal Resurrection hymns ! You may hear or have already heard me use the "aah" or "ooh" choir, string orchestra, bells, and solo horns to supplement the traditional organ sounds.

The organ also has a "digital recorder". This has been used when I played a duet on the piano with the organ playing itself. Also, when I sang an offertory solo and recorded the organ accompaniment in advance. This is not a traditional recording. It's more similar to a player piano. When being recorded, the sound is not recorded but the "information" or "data" as to what is happening. For example, if I play the note "middle C" it does not record the sound but it records the fact that I played it. Then on playback, the digital recording tells the organ what notes to play, with what sound to use, and how long to hold the note !!!

Let's make it a great time in the Lord this Fall as we worship in music and song !

Parish Forum in September

Mark Sunday, September 20 on your calendars as the date of our next Parish Forum. If you attend the 9:00 AM service, plan on staying over for the Forum; and if you attend the 11:15 AM service, plan on coming early to participate in the Forum. The Forum will start at 10:30 AM in the Parish Hall. We haven't held a Forum in some time, and this will be an opportunity to hear updates on where we stand with our commitments to the Diocese, as well as on various plans and projects that are in progress. We will also talk about small changes you may have noticed in the flow of the liturgy, and such things as how our changing demographics and attendance patterns call us to consider our current balance between Rite 1 and Rite 2 services.

It will also be a good time to ask questions that are likely to be of general interest to other parishioners. To facilitate that, and give us an initial group of questions to address in the Forum, I encourage you to provide your questions to the office at your earliest opportunity. They may be dropped by the office, or preferably emailed to Office@Stchristophers-az.org. Let us know what is on your mind, and we'll consolidate similar questions to address the most prevalent areas of interest.

Foro Parroquial en Septiembre

Marque Domingo, el 20 de septiembre en su calendario como la fecha de nuestro próximo Foro Parroquial. Si viene a la misa de las 9:00 AM, quédese después para el Foro; y si usted asiste la misa de las 11:15 am, planea venir temprano para participar en el Foro. El Foro empezará a las 10:30 AM en el Salón Parroquial. No hemos realizado un Foro en algún tiempo, y esta será una oportunidad para escuchar actualizaciones sobre dónde nos encontramos con nuestros compromisos con la Diócesis, así como sobre los diversos planes y proyectos que están en curso. También vamos a hablar de los pequeños cambios que tal vez han notado en el flujo de la liturgia, y cosas como la forma en que nuestros cambios demográficos y pautas de asistencia nos llaman a tener en cuenta el equilibrio actual entre los servicios del Rito 1 y el Rito 2.

También será una buena oportunidad para hacer preguntas que puedan ser de interés general para los demás parroquianos. Para facilitar esto, y darnos un primer grupo de preguntas para tratar en el Foro, les animo a proporcionar sus preguntas a la oficina en su primera oportunidad. Se pueden dejar las preguntas en la oficina, o preferiblemente por correo electrónico a Office@Stchristophers-az.org. Déjenos saber lo está en su mente, y vamos a consolidar preguntas similares hablar de a las áreas de mayor prevalencia de interés.

*¡Nos veremos en el Foro!
